BUDGET MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Congress of the United States:

I am transmitting herewith a war Budget exceeding 100 billion dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1943. Last year I called the Budget an instrument for transforming a peace economy into a war economy. This Budget presents the maximum program for waging war.

We wage total war because our very existence is threatened. Without that supreme effort we cannot hope to retain the freedom and self-respect which give life its value.

Total war is grim reality. It means the dedication of our lives and resources to a single objective: Victory.

Total war in a democracy is a violent conflict in which everyone must anticipate that both lives and possessions will be assigned to their most effective use in the common effort—the effort for community survival—Nation survival.

In total war we are all soldiers, whether in uniform, overalls, or shirt sleeves.

BUDGETING FOR TOTAL WAR

WAR EXPENDITURES

The huge and expanding rate of war expenditures shows our determination to equip our fighting forces and those of our Allies with the instruments of war needed for victory. Monthly expenditures for war purposes amounted to 2 billion dollars just after Pearl Harbor; they now exceed 6 billion dollars and they will average more than 8 billion dollars a month during the fiscal year 1944. For the whole of the current fiscal year total war expenditures are now estimated at 77 billion dollars; for the next fiscal year, at 100 billion dollars. These estimates include the net outlays of Government corporations for war purposes and assume only a small rise in prices.

Victory cannot be bought with any amount of money, however large; victory is achieved by the blood of soldiers, the sweat of working men and women, and the sacrifice of all people. But a 100-billion-dollar expenditure program does reflect a national effort of gigantic magnitude. It calls for vision on the part of those in charge of war production, ingenuity of management, and the skill, devotion, and tenacity of the men on the farms and in the factories. It makes possible the expansion of our armed forces necessary to offensive operations, the production of planes and munitions to provide unquestioned superiority, and the construction of ships which will make it possible for us to strike at the enemy wherever he may be. It reflects the determination of the civilians to "pass the ammunition." Moreover, consumers' goods and services will have to be produced in an amount adequate to maintain the health and productivity of the civilian population. And all of this will have to be done while we are withdrawing millions of men from production for service in the armed forces.

Some persons may believe that such a program is fantastic. My reply is that this program is feasible. If the Nation's manpower and resources are fully harnessed, I am confident that the objective of this program can be reached, but it requires a complete recognition of the necessities of total war by all—management, labor, farmers, consumers, and public servants—regardless of party. Production short of these military requirements would be a betrayal of our fighting men.

This Budget does not include the detailed estimates of war expenditures which would reveal information to our enemies. An additional reason for such action at this time is that rapid developments on far-flung battle fronts make it impossible to submit a detailed war Budget for a year ending 18 months hence. I shall continue, however, to report on the broad categories of war expenditures. The following table summarizes our present estimates of war expenditures from general and special accounts and by Government corporations.

Estimates of total expenditures for war, fiscal years 1943 and 1944

[Billions]

Object of expenditure	Fiscal 1943	Fiscal 1944
Munitions.....	$43	$66
Military and civilian pay, subsistence, and travel.....	15	21
Industrial construction.....	6	2
Other construction.....	8	5
Other, including agricultural lend-lease.....	5	6
Total.....	77	100

This spring I shall submit the necessary information upon which the Congress can base war appropriations for the fiscal year 1944. In the meantime there are available about 170 billion dollars of unspent war appropriations and authorizations; about two-thirds of this amount is already obligated or committed. Further appropriations will soon be needed to permit letting of contracts with industry for the next year.

THE PROCUREMENT OF MUNITIONS

Total mobilization of all our men and women, all our equipment, and all our materials in a balanced production program will enable us to accomplish the production goals underlying this war Budget.

Manpower.—Marked progress has been made in mobilizing manpower. In spite of the increase in the armed services, industrial production rose by 46 percent, and agricultural production by 15 percent between calendar years 1940 and 1942. Industrial production has not been delayed and crops have not been lost because of lack of manpower except in a few isolated cases. More than 10 million people have been added to the employed or the armed forces since the summer of 1940, 7 million of whom were unemployed and more than 3 million of whom are additions to the Nation's labor and armed forces.

Manpower mobilization is now entering a much more difficult phase. During the calendar year 1943 approximately 6 million people will be needed above present requirements for the armed services and war production. This number can be obtained by transferring from less essential work, and by drawing into the working force people who have not recently sought employment. Vigorous action is required to mobilize and train our reserve of women and young people, to accelerate the transfer of workers to essential industries, and to reduce harmful turn-over and migration of workers in essential industries. It also requires prevention of labor hoarding and elimination of hiring restrictions based on sex, creed, or race. I reiterate my previous recommendation for a unified and adequate rehabilitation service to make available a million persons for war industry and to restore to civil employment persons who are being disabled in the armed forces.

Manpower needs of the armed forces and of war production during the calendar year 1943 can be met without impairment of essential civilian requirements. I stress the important distinction between "essential requirements" and the thousand and one things that are nonessentials or luxuries. The production of these nonessentials wastes manpower at a time when careful economy and greater efficiency in the use of our manpower resources is imperative. Private thought and public discussion of this subject are very necessary.

Equipment.—Were it not for an unprecedented program of conversion and the building up of a new war industry during the past two and one-half years, we could not expect to fulfill the war-production program outlined in this Message.

Some progress, but not enough, has been made in spreading war contracts more widely among medium-sized and smaller plants. Further efforts are necessary. In certain cases, of course, saving of manpower and materials requires concentration in those plants best equipped to produce a given commodity.

Materials.—Furthermore, war production is limited by our supply of raw materials. The available materials must be transformed into the maximum of striking power. The production of less urgent or the wrong quantity of items, or poor scheduling of production in any single plant or in the munitions program as a whole, results in waste of precious materials. The Nation's war production must be so scheduled that the right items are produced in the right amounts at the right time.

War contracts.—The procurement program must achieve maximum production with minimum waste and with the speed essential in time of war. This is the controlling objective not only for the original negotiation of contracts but also for the renegotiation required by law. The law provides for the prevention or recapture of excessive profits, thus supplementing and reinforcing the objectives of the excess-profits tax. I believe that control of the costs of production is of equal importance.

The proper negotiation and renegotiation of contracts must strive to reconcile the avoidance of excessive profits with the maintenance of incentives to economical management.

FARM AND FOOD PROGRAM

Food is a primary weapon of war. An adequate food supply is, therefore, a basic aspect of a total war program. I have placed in the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture full responsibility for determining and fulfilling the food requirements in this war. Our agricultural production is larger than ever in our history but the needs of our armed services and our Allies are so great that a shortage of certain foods is inevitable. The production of the less-needed commodities must be reduced, while the production of commodities for war and essential civilian use must be increased. It is imperative also that this increased demand for food be adjusted to available supplies. There will be sufficient volume in our bill of fare but less variety. That may hurt our taste but not our health.

To facilitate this program, I am recommending appropriations for Aids to Agriculture totaling 837 million dollars for the fiscal year 1944. Among the major items included in the 837-million-dollar total are 400 million for Conservation and Use of Agricultural Land Resources; 194 million for Parity Payments on the 1942 crops; and 96 million for Exportation and Domestic Consumption of Surplus Commodities. Other large items included are 64 million dollars for payments under the Sugar Act; 38 million for the Farm Security Administration; and 31 million for reductions in interest rates on farm mortgages.

Prior to the 1943 appropriation acts, annual appropriations for parity payments were made a year in advance of actual need, and acreage allotments for the year ahead were used as a factor in determining payments on the crops of the current year. In the 1943 Budget and appropriation acts, provisions were made to insure that all factors used in determining the amount of parity payments on the crops of a given year would pertain to the program of that year. Also, to bring this item into conformity with our general budgetary practice, the annual cash appropriation for parity payments was omitted, but the Secretary was authorized to incur contractual obligations assuring the cooperating producers of cotton, corn, wheat, rice, and tobacco that such payments would be made, if and as necessary, on their 1942 crops.

The appropriation now requested, therefore, is simply the amount estimated to be necessary to compensate the producers of corn, wheat, and certain minor types of tobacco for the disparity between the market returns from the normal yield of their 1942 allotted acreage and the parity price return from that production: It is expected that no parity payments will be necessary on the 1942 crops of cotton, rice, and most types of tobacco.

Since the established national policy is to assure the cooperating producers of these basic crops parity prices on the normal yields of their allotted acreages, I am again recommending that the authority to incur contractual obligations for such payments on future crops be renewed.

On the other hand, I am recommending a reduction of 50 million dollars in the appropriation for Conservation and Use of Agricultural Land Resources. I am also directing the Secretary of Agriculture to utilize the 400 million dollars still provided under this heading as fully and effectively as the basic law will permit to encourage greater production of the crops essential to the war effort. This fund will not be used for restriction of production except of less-needed crops. Payments will be made only to those producers who comply fully in their plantings with the stated war-production goals.

For Exportation and Domestic Consumption of Agricultural Commodities the Budget includes only the permanent annual appropriation of 30 percent of customs revenues provided by law, plus reappropriation of unobligated balances. The food-stamp plan, which is a major item of the current program, will be discontinued shortly. Although other items such as school lunch and school milk projects and the direct distribution of surplus commodities are somewhat expanded, there will be an over-all reduction of about 30 million dollars.

Provision for operations under the Farm Tenant Act and for Loans, Grants, and Rural Rehabilitation are continued on about the same level as for the current year. Small farms, like other small war plants, must be encouraged to make a maximum contribution to the war. I hope the Congress will give as much sympathetic consideration to these smaller and poorer farmers as it has given to the smaller and poorer industrial concerns.

Because no one can immediately foresee all the needs we may encounter in fulfilling our essential war requirements for agriculture, various loan and purchase operations, involving contingent liabilities which cannot be exactly predetermined, may be necessary.

CIVILIAN CONSUMPTION

In spite of a 100-billion-dollar war program, civilians can be supplied with an average of about $500 worth of goods and services during the next year. This implies an average reduction of almost 25 percent in civilian consumption below the record level of the calendar year 1941. Even then most of us will be better fed, better clothed, and better housed than other peoples in the world. Do not let us assume from that statement, however, that there is no need for great improvement in the living conditions of a large segment of our population.

It is the responsibility of the Government to plan for more production of essential civilian goods and less of nonessential goods.

Production and distribution of goods should be simplified and standardized; unnecessary costs and frills should be eliminated. Total war demands simplification of American life. By giving up what we do not need, all of us will be better able to get what we do need.

In order to distribute the scarce necessities of life equitably we are rationing some commodities. By rationing we restrict consumption, but only to assure to each civilian his share of basic commodities.

The essentials for civilian life also include a good standard of health and medical service, education, and care for children in wartime as well as in peace.

THE STABILIZATION PROGRAM

We must assure each citizen the necessities of life at prices which he can pay. Otherwise, rising prices will lift many goods beyond his reach just as surely as if those goods did not exist. By a concerted effort to stabilize prices, rents, and wages we have succeeded in keeping the rise in the cost of living within narrow bounds. We shall continue those efforts, and we shall succeed. By making effective use of all measures of control, we shall be able to stabilize prices with only a limited use of subsidies to stimulate needed production.

Some would like to see the controls relaxed for this or that special group. They forget that to relax controls for one group is an argument to relax for other groups, thereby starting the cost-of-living spiral which would undermine the war effort and cause grave post-war difficulties. Economic stabilization for all groups—not for just the other fellow—is the only policy consistent with the requirements of total war. I have read of this bloc, and that bloc, and the other bloc, which existed in past Congresses. May this new Congress confine itself to one bloc—a national bloc.

Stabilization goes beyond effective price control. Under war conditions a rise in profits, wages, and farm incomes unfortunately does not increase the supply of goods for civilians; it merely invites the bidding up of prices of scarce commodities. The stabilization of incomes and the absorption of excess purchasing power by fiscal measures are essential for the success of the stabilization program. I am confident that the Congress will implement that program by adequate legislation increasing taxation, savings, or both. Thus, we will help to “pay as we go” and make the coming peace easier for ourselves and our children.

CIVILIAN CONTROLS IN TOTAL WAR

Total war requires nothing less than organizing all the human and material resources of the Nation. To accomplish this all-out mobilization speedily, effectively, and fairly we have had to adopt extensive controls over civilian life. We use the Selective Service System to man the armed forces. We are systematizing the movement of labor to assure needed manpower to war industries and agriculture. We regulate prices, wages, salaries, and rents; we limit consumer credit; we allocate scarce raw materials; and we ration scarce consumer goods—all to the end of providing the materials of war and distributing the sacrifices equitably.

Such regulations and restrictions have complicated our daily lives. We save rubber, metal, fats—everything. We fill out forms, carry coupons, answer questionnaires. This is all new. We have overdone it in many cases. By trial and error we are learning simpler and better methods. But remember always that reaching the objective is what counts most. There is no easy, pleasant way to restrict the living habits—the eating, clothing, heating, travel, and working habits—of 130 million people. There is no easy, pleasant way to wage total war.

About 400,000 civilian employees of the Federal Government are engaged in the task of civilian administration for total war. They direct and schedule war production; handle the procurement of food, munitions, and equipment for our armed forces and our Allies; supervise wartime transportation; administer price, wage, rent, labor, and material controls and commodity rationing; conduct economic and propaganda offensives against our enemies; and do necessary paper work for the armed forces.

Besides these Government employees, millions of men and women volunteers—who draw no pay—are carrying out tasks of war administration, many of them after long hours at their regular occupation. These patriotic citizens are serving on draft boards, on war price and ration boards, in the civilian defense organization, the war bond campaign, and many other activities. They deserve the gratitude of their countrymen.

More than 1,600,000—or approximately three-fifths—of all Federal civilian employees are engaged directly in war production. They build and load ships, make guns and shells, repair machines and equipment, build arsenals and camps, sew uniforms, operate airports and signal systems. These are the workers in navy yards, arsenals, storage depots, military airfields, and other operating centers. It is scarcely ethical to try to make people believe that these workers are holding down armchair or unnecessary Government jobs.

This huge organization, created overnight to meet our war needs, could not be expected to function smoothly from the very start. Congressional committees and many individuals have made helpful suggestions. Criticism is welcome if it is based on truth. We will continue our efforts to make the organization more fully effective.

Compensation of Federal employees.—Last month the Congress took temporary and emergency action, which will expire April 30, 1943, relative to compensation for Federal employees. The legislation removed inequities, lengthened the workweek to conserve manpower, increased payment for longer hours, and provided bonus payments for certain employees. The pay increases should be met largely by reducing the total number of employees proportionate to the increase in the workweek.

In the present appropriation requests and expenditure estimates for the fiscal years 1943 and 1944, no allowance has been made for any cost increase resulting from the adjustment in Federal salaries.

The problems of Federal salary administration need further study in the early days of the new Congress for enactment of more permanent legislation for the duration of the war.

“NONWAR” EXPENDITURES

I am making recommendations in the usual detail for so-called “nonwar” appropriations for the fiscal year 1944. This classification includes the same items as in former years.

Actually, the “nonwar” classification now has little, if any, meaning. Most of these expenditures are related to the war effort and many are directly occasioned by it. This “nonwar” category includes, for instance, expenditures for war tax collections, for budgeting, disbursing, and auditing war expenditures, and for statistical and scientific services to war agencies. It includes also such items as the control of white pine blister rust, which I recently discussed. Expenditures for controlling this threat to our timber resources are necessary to avoid possible loss of millions of dollars in lumber from trees which require more than 50 years to reach maturity.

All counted, there are less than 850,000 civilian employees of the Federal Government, including the Postal Service, who are engaged in these so-called "nonwar" activities.

A few weeks ago I transmitted to the Congress a comprehensive report on "nonwar" expenditures during the past decade. This document demonstrated the important reductions which had been made in these expenditures, especially since the start of the defense program.

The following table summarizes reductions analyzed in the report, to which it is now possible to add revised estimates for the fiscal year 1943 and estimates for 1944 as developed in this Budget.

"Nonwar" expenditures, fiscal years 1939-44
(Excluding interest and statutory debt retirement)

[Millions]

Fiscal year	Total non-war ex-penditures	Reduction below 1939
1939.....	$6,516	-----
1940.....	6,246	$270
1941.....	5,298	1,218
1942.....	5,125	1,391
1943 (estimated).....	4,582	1,934
1944 (estimated).....	4,124	2,392

The table shows a reduction of 36.7 percent in "nonwar" expenditures in the next fiscal year compared with 1939. In appraising these reductions, it should be borne in mind that large items, such as veterans' pensions and social-security grants, are controlled by legal or other commitments. In fact the outstanding increase for the fiscal year 1944 is for the Veterans' Administration, for which expenditures are estimated at 879 million dollars, or 265 million dollars higher than in the current year. Most of the increase is for insurance for our fighting forces in the present war.

The most important reductions recommended for the coming year relate to work relief and general public works. Because of present high levels of employment, I am able to recommend elimination of the Work Projects Administration. This action under present conditions does not cast upon the State and local governments more than the proper burden of financing the relief of those who are unable to work. Expenditures for general public works will be greatly curtailed.

Continuing projects are directly related to war needs. Others have been discontinued as rapidly as this could be done without risking the loss of the investment already made.

I shall be glad to cooperate with the Congress in effecting further reductions in "nonwar" expenditures through the necessary revision of underlying legislation and in every other way. It should be pointed out to the Congress and to the Nation, however, that we are fast approaching the subsistence level of government—the minimum for sustaining orderly social and economic processes—and that further reductions will necessarily be of much smaller magnitude than those already achieved.

My recommendations contemplate that in the fiscal year 1944, 96 cents of every dollar expended by the Federal Government will be used to pay war costs and interest on the public debt, and only 4 cents for all the so-called "nonwar" purposes.

INTEREST

War financing has raised the requirement for interest on the public debt from 1,041 million dollars in 1940, the fiscal year before the defense program started, to an estimated 1,850 million dollars for the current year and 3,000 million dollars for the fiscal year 1944 under existing legislation.

FINANCING TOTAL WAR

THE NEED FOR ADDITIONAL FUNDS

Financing expenditures which will exceed 100 billion dollars is a task of tremendous magnitude. By meeting this task squarely we will contribute substantially to the war effort and clear the ground for successful reconstruction after the war. An adequate financial program is essential both for winning the war and for winning the peace.

Financing total war involves two main fiscal problems. One problem is to supply the funds currently required to pay for the war and to keep the increase in Federal debt within bounds. The second problem is caused by the disbursement of 100 billion dollars a year to contractors, war workers, farmers, soldiers, and their families, thus adding many billions to the peoples' buying power, at a time when the amount of goods to be bought is declining steadily. A large portion of this excess buying power must be recovered into the Treasury to prevent the excess from being used to bid up the price of scarce goods and thus undermine the stabilization program by breaking price ceilings, creating black markets, and increasing the cost of living.

We cannot hope to increase tax collections as fast as we step up war expenditures or to absorb by fiscal measures alone all excess purchasing power created by these expenditures. We must, therefore, provide a substantial portion of the needed funds by additional borrowing, and we must also use direct controls, such as price ceilings and rationing, for the protection of the consumer. Nevertheless, the more nearly increases in tax receipts follow increases in expenditures, the better we safeguard our financial integrity and the easier the administration of price control and rationing. All of these measures are interrelated. Each increase in taxes and each increase in savings will lessen the upward pressure on prices and reduce the amount of rationing and other direct controls we shall need.

The revenue acts of the past 3 years, particularly the Revenue Act of 1942, have contributed greatly toward meeting our fiscal needs. In the fiscal year 1944, total general and special receipts under present law are estimated at 35 billion dollars, or almost six times those of the fiscal year 1940. But the increase in expenditures has been even more rapid.

I believe that we should strive to collect not less than 16 billion dollars of additional funds by taxation, savings, or both, during the fiscal year 1944.

On the basis of present legislation, we expect to meet 34 percent of total estimated Federal expenditures by current receipts during the fiscal year 1944. If the objective proposed in this Message is adopted, we shall meet approximately 50 percent of expenditures during the fiscal year 1944.

THE NEED FOR A BALANCED AND FLEXIBLE REVENUE SYSTEM

I hope that the Congress in working out the revenue program will consider that the fiscal measures must be designed not only to provide revenue, but also to support the stabilization program as well by deterring luxury or nonessential spending. The cost of the war should be distributed in an equitable and fair manner. Furthermore, care should be taken that the fiscal measures do not impair but actually promote maximum war production. Finally, it is more important than ever before to simplify taxation both for taxpayers and for those collecting the tax, and to put our taxes as far as feasible on a pay-as-you-go basis.

I cannot ask the Congress to impose the necessarily heavy financial burdens on the lower and middle incomes unless the taxes on higher and very large incomes are made fully effective. At a time when wages and salaries are stabilized, the receipt of very large net incomes from any source constitutes a gross inequity undermining national unity.

Fairness requires the closing of loopholes and the removal of inequities which still exist in our tax laws. I have spoken on these subjects on several previous occasions.

The Congress can do much to solve our problem of war finance and to support the stabilization program. In the past, wars have usually been paid for mainly by means of inflation, thereby shifting the greatest burden to the weakest shoulders and inviting post-war collapse. We seek to avoid both. Of necessity, the program must be harsh. We should remember, however, that it is a war for existence, and not taxation, which compels us to devote more than one-half of all our resources to war use. An effective program of war finance does not add to the total sacrifices necessitated by war, but it does assure that those sacrifices are distributed equitably and with a minimum of friction.

We should remember, furthermore, that helping to finance the war is the privilege mainly of those who still enjoy the receipt of incomes as civilians during the war. It is a modest contribution toward victory when we compare it with the contribution of those in the fighting forces.

By the end of the current fiscal year, the public debt will total 135 billion dollars. By June 30, 1944, it will be about 210 billion dollars under existing revenue legislation. Before the present debt limit of 125 billion dollars is reached, the Congress will be requested to extend that limit. To do this is sound, for such a debt can and will be repaid. The Nation is soundly solvent.

PREPARING FOR TOTAL VICTORY

Preparing for total victory includes preparing the base on which a happier world can be built. The tremendous productive capacity of our country, of all countries, has been demonstrated. Freedom from want for everybody, everywhere, is no longer a Utopian dream. It can be translated into action when the fear of aggression has been removed by victory. The soldiers of the fighting forces and the workmen engaged in military production want to be assured that they will return to a life of opportunity and security in a society of free men.

The economic stabilization program, although born of war necessity, will greatly facilitate post-war reconstruction. A determined policy of war taxation and savings will aid in making post-war problems manageable by reducing the volume of additional borrowing and supporting the stabilization program. Because of the unavoidable magnitude of interest-bearing debt, taxes probably will never revert to their pre-war level. But substantial reduction from the war level will, nevertheless, be possible and will go hand in hand with a greater human security if the underlying fiscal structure is kept sound.

I shall be happy to meet with the appropriate committees of the Congress at any and all times in regard to the methods by which they propose to attain the objectives outlined in this Message. We are at one in our desire quickly to win this war and to avoid passing on to future generations more than their just share of its sacrifices and burdens.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

The estimates for the legislative establishment provide for the salaries and expenses of the Members and staffs of the Senate and the House of Representatives, the operation and maintenance of the Capitol, the Senate and the House Office Buildings, the Library of Congress, the Botanic Garden, and the Government Printing Office. The 1944 Budget for the legislative establishment reflects a net increase of approximately 1 percent over appropriations for 1943. This increase is confined almost entirely to the Library of Congress. All of the estimates are predicated upon the assumption that Congress will remain in almost continuous session in 1944.

The estimate for the United States Senate provides salaries for 96 Members and approximately 1,200 regular employees and for travel and contingent expenses of Senators. The Budget for 1944 shows a slight decrease under the appropriation for 1943 due to the elimination of a nonrecurring item for the renovation of the Senate restaurants.

For the House of Representatives, with its 435 Members and some 2,000 regular employees, an estimate substantially the same as the appropriation for 1943 is submitted. No change is made in the estimates for the Capitol Police, the Joint Committee on Printing, or the Office of Legislative Counsel.

The Architect of the Capitol is responsible for the maintenance of the Capitol and the Senate and the House Office Buildings. There is a net increase of approximately 2 percent in these estimates, occasioned by the increased cost of supplies and materials and promotions and reallocations of personnel mandatory under the law. The Botanic Garden, which is also under the jurisdiction of the Architect of the Capitol, shows an increase in its estimates to meet statutory pay increases.

The Library of Congress provides library and reference service not only for the Members of Congress, but for the entire Federal Government and for many thousands of private citizens besides. Since the outbreak of the present war, it has not only had its work load increased in proportion to the volume of Federal business, but it has undertaken an expanded program of cultural exchanges of books with Latin-American countries designed to promote hemispheric understanding and unity. The estimates of appropriations for the Library of Congress for the fiscal year 1944 are approximately 10 percent larger than the 1943 expenditure program. The appropriations showing the largest increases are those for salaries, printing and binding, union catalogs, and accessions of books and documents.

The Government Printing Office is the printer for the entire Federal Government. Only the cost of printing for the legislative establishment, however, is included in this estimate. The amount included in the Budget for the fiscal year 1944 shows a slight decrease under the appropriations for 1943, which reached an all-time peak because of the fact that Congress has been in almost continuous session during the war emergency and because of increased cost of materials and labor.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

The Judiciary consists of the United States Supreme Court, the United States Circuit Courts of Appeals, the United States District Courts, and the following specialized courts: United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, United States Customs Court, United States Court of Claims, and the Supreme Court and Circuit Courts of Hawaii. In addition to these courts, allied activities include United States commissioners, the probation system, and the Administrative Office of the United States Courts.

There was little change in the past fiscal year in the number of civil cases being brought before the district courts, but an increase of 22 percent occurred in the number of criminal cases pending. A 5-percent increase in the number of criminal cases filed during the past year is largely the result of prosecutions for violations of the Selective Service Act.

In accordance with relevant statutes, estimates for The Judiciary are included in the Budget without revision by the Bureau of the Budget.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

The total increase of $41,420 does not contemplate any additions to regular personnel for the Court but will provide increases of $11,420 for the annual operating expenses of the Court and $30,000 to continue the preparation of rules for criminal proceedings.

OTHER FEDERAL COURTS

Appropriations under this head provide for salaries and operating expenses for the specialized courts, circuit courts of appeals, district courts, offices of clerks of courts, United States commissioners, and the probation system. The most important items included in the increase of $506,804 are $100,000 for the reclassification of the positions of secretaries and law clerks to district and circuit judges and $118,600 for additional law clerks to district judges.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE OF THE UNITED STATES COURTS

An increase of $10,037 will provide additional employees to meet the increasing volume of work, and promotions and salary adjustments under recent legislation.

TRUST ACCOUNT

This appropriation for duly authorized trust fund refunds to payees is based on actual expenditures for the fiscal year 1942.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

THE WHITE HOUSE

These appropriations provide for the compensation of the President and the Vice President, the salaries and expenses of the White House Office, and the cost of maintaining the Executive Mansion and grounds. The President's immediate office provides for the orderly handling of documents and correspondence, in addition to maintaining communication with the Congress, the heads of the executive departments and agencies, the press, the radio, and the general public. Included in the staff are the President's personal aides and secretaries. The White House estimates for 1944 show a slight decrease, amounting to less than 1 percent, under the appropriations for 1943.

BUREAU OF THE BUDGET

The Bureau of the Budget assists the President in the preparation and administration of the Federal Budget covering the entire fiscal program of the Government. In addition, as a staff agency of the Federal Government, the Bureau makes studies to improve the organization and procedures of other agencies; clears departmental recommendations regarding pending legislation, Executive orders, and proclamations; and coordinates Federal statistical services. During 1943 the Bureau undertook new activities such as the study of war supply administration and the establishment of the supplies and equipment unit for a more effective utilization of critical items of equipment. These services are being financed in 1943 by an allocation from the President's emergency fund, but the 1944 estimates provide for carrying such personnel for the full year. For all activities, the Bureau estimates reflect an increase in 1944 of approximately 16 percent over estimated expenditures for 1943. Nearly half of the increase in appropriation is for the establishment of four field offices, and the remainder is for the gradual recruitment program which was initiated in 1939 to strengthen this branch of the Executive Office.

NATIONAL RESOURCES PLANNING BOARD

The National Resources Planning Board, under direct supervision of the President, makes long-range forecasts of economic trends and plans Government programs accordingly. In connection with the war program, the Board is cooperating with the War Production Board on studies of industrial location, and with State planning agencies and defense councils where new plants or Army camps have created special problems for local adjustment. Studies are being made of relief policies, youth, and migration, transportation, location of industry, land, water, and energy resources. In addition, the Board is revising and extending plans for a 6-year program of public works. The post-war period, involving the reconversion of industry to peacetime production, is the problem of primary concern to the National Resources Planning Board at this time. The 1944 estimates for this agency are nearly twice as large as the appropriations for 1943. The principal item of increase is under the appropriation for national defense activities, offset in part by a decrease in the estimate for printing and binding.

INDEPENDENT ESTABLISHMENTS

AMERICAN BATTLE MONUMENTS COMMISSION

Prior to the German invasion of western Europe in 1940, the American Battle Monuments Commission maintained and operated 8 national cemeteries and 11 memorials in France, Belgium, and England commemorating the services of the American Expeditionary Forces during the first World War. At the present time the Commission has withdrawn its American employees, and is depending upon the Governments of France and Belgium to administer the properties on a contract basis. In addition it has reduced its departmental staff to 5 employees, pending the cessation of hostilities. Besides the responsibility of seeing that the cemeteries and memorials in Europe are properly cared for, the Commission is completing publication of the official written and photographic record of the campaigns of the American divisions in the World War. Termination of this project in 1943 will permit a small reduction in this agency's estimate for 1944.

OFFICE OF THE BITUMINOUS COAL CONSUMERS' COUNSEL

This office was created as an independent agency by the act of April 11, 1941, renewing the provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 for a period of 2 years. The 1944 Budget contains no estimate for this office because of its abolishment by operation of law on April 26, 1943.

BOARD OF INVESTIGATION AND RESEARCH—TRANSPORTATION

No estimate is made for the Board of Investigation and Research for 1944 inasmuch as the 1943 appropriation provided for full completion of the special studies in the field of transportation for which the Board was created.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

The United States Civil Service Commission recruits, selects, and certifies persons for employment in all branches of the Federal Government, including civilian establishments operated by the War and Navy Departments. This activity also includes investigations as to the character, loyalty, and past experience of applicants.

The work of the Commission includes many problems related to employment in the Government service such as in-service training, interagency transfers to secure better utilization of skills, determination of sound personnel practices for all governmental agencies, and administration of the Classification Act whereby the duties assigned to governmental positions are determined and equitable salary allocations are made for Federal employees in Washington and in the field. The Commission also administers the retirement laws for employees of the Government, including the employees of the Panama Canal Zone and the Alaska Railroad.

Due to the increase in the size of the Federal establishment, mainly because of defense and war activities, the placement load of the Civil Service Commission has increased tremendously. For example, in the fiscal year 1940, there was a 42 percent increase in placements made over fiscal year 1939; in 1941, a 448 percent increase over the fiscal year 1940; and in 1942, 176 percent increase over the fiscal year 1941. The number of placements in Government offices outside of Washington represents 83 percent of the total placements of the Commission. To take care of the work in this field, the Commission has decentralized many of its activities in 229 offices throughout the United States, directly supervised by 10 sub-regional offices and 13 regional offices.

The appropriation recommended for 1944 shows a decrease of $1,124,340 from actual funds available in 1943. This decrease is, in part, accounted for by the completion of the special work involved in the recent extension of civil service to classes of Federal employees not previously covered. The remainder of the decrease is calculated on the anticipated reduction of work load in 1944.

Appropriations are made annually toward the Government's share of providing benefits to participants in the disability and retirement benefits provided by law for the Federal service. These appropriations and the contributions made by the participating employees provide the trust funds from which benefits are paid.

EMPLOYEES' COMPENSATION COMMISSION

The United States Employees' Compensation Commission administers various statutes providing for compensation for injury or death of employees of the United States.

The original act of 1916 provided for compensation payments to civilian employees of the Government and now covers approximately 2,500,000 persons. Later, the provisions of this law were extended to certain of the emergency relief agencies, the Tennessee Valley Authority, certain reserve and auxiliary corps of the Army, Navy, and Coast Guard, and, with the exception of the fire and police departments, to the District of Columbia.

The activities of the Employees' Compensation Commission with respect to Federal employees are similar to those of the State workmen's compensation laws, except that the entire expense is borne by appropriated funds.

The Employees' Compensation Commission also administers the provisions of the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, the District of Columbia Compensation Act, and the act providing compensation for disability or death resulting from injury to persons employed at military, air, and naval bases acquired by the United States from foreign countries.

These laws provide for the payments for disability and death to be made by insurers, who are either insurance companies or employers. The appropriations of the Government pay only for the administration of these laws.

During the fiscal year 1942, the Commission settled 84,393 claims of Federal employees whose disability and death compensation is payable under the act of 1916; made decisions in 134,678 cases arising out of the Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, 36,571 cases under the District of Columbia Workmen's Compensation Act, and 167,277 cases under the Foreign Military Bases Act.

Because of large increases in the number of persons employed by and for the Government in the war effort who are covered by the Employees' Compensation Commission, it is estimated the number of claims for the fiscal year 1943 will advance steadily.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

The estimates submitted for the fiscal year 1944 provide for a continuation of the regulatory work of the Commission at the same level as for 1943 and an expansion in its war activities. For the latter purpose, an increase of approximately 11 percent is submitted in the estimates. This will make provision for the work of monitoring stations which are operated on a 24-hour basis to insure a continual and effective policing of all radio communications channels and signals. It will also provide for coordination with the War Department intercepter commands in the silencing of radio stations during air-raid danger and insure prompt return to the air when the danger is over. Other activities affected by the increase are: Listening in on foreign radio transmissions of intelligence and propaganda, thereby guiding counter-propaganda and other necessary actions; and maintenance of an adequate communications service to meet the needs of the Nation, including the formulation of plans for the Board of War Communications.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

The Federal Power Commission is primarily a regulatory body responsible, among other things, for the issuance of licenses for the development of the water-power resources of the Nation; the fixing of rates for the transmission and sale of electric energy in interstate commerce; the control of the importation and exportation of electric energy; the disposition and acquisition and merger of public utility properties; the supervision of accounts and rates of depreciation of public utilities; the collection, compilation, and dissemination of information regarding power supply and demand; the regulation of companies engaged in the resale of natural gas for public consumption; and the protection of the power supply against hostile acts. In cooperation with the War Production Board the Commission is responsible for maintaining an adequate supply of power and energy to meet the civilian and war needs of the Nation. The amount recommended for 1944 is $70,140 less than the appropriations for 1943, reductions having been made in the amount for surveys and investigations relating to future flood-control projects, and in the amount for printing and binding.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

The estimates for the Commission for the fiscal year 1944 are slightly below the 1943 level, which in turn were $309,750 below 1942. The reduction for 1944 applies chiefly to economies effected in printing costs. Minimum provision has been made in the estimates for continued work in the enforcement of the Federal Trade Commission Act, the sections of the Clayton Act which the Commission is empowered to administer, the Webb-Pomerene or Export Trade Act, and the Wool Products Labeling Act. The Federal Trade Commission Act directs the Commission to take action against unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive practices in commerce which are injurious to the public interest. In the administration of the Clayton Act the Commission deals with price and other discriminations, and with tying and exclusive dealing contracts, acquisitions of capital stock, and interlocking directorates. The Webb-Pomerene, or Export Trade Act, provides for the promotion of foreign trade by permitting the organization of associations to engage exclusively in export trade and granting such associations exemption from the Sherman Antitrust Act under well-defined restrictions, including the provision that such associations are not to be in restraint of trade within the United States. The Wool Products Labeling Act is designed to protect producers, manufacturers, distributors, and consumers from unrevealed presence of substitutes and mixtures in manufactured wool products.

FOREIGN SERVICE PAY ADJUSTMENT

The purpose of this appropriation is to enable employees of the Government serving in foreign countries to be reimbursed for losses sustained due to appreciation of foreign currencies in relation to the American dollar. There are today but 5 countries of the world in which Americans are free to travel where exchange relief applies, whereas in 1942 there were more than 20 such countries. For this reason, and because of the fact that the Army and Navy will this year obtain direct appropriations to provide for their own personnel, it is estimated that $365,000 will be adequate for the fiscal year 1944. This is the lowest amount provided for any fiscal year since this appropriation was authorized in 1934.

GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE

The General Accounting Office audits the Government's receipts and expenditures, prescribes accounting systems, maintains appropriation accounts, settles claims, and administratively interprets appropriation laws.

The estimates of the General Accounting Office for 1944 show an increase of approximately 50 percent over the appropriations for 1943. It is estimated that the volume of Federal expenditures to be audited in 1944 will be approximately 70 percent greater than in 1943. By far the greater portion of the appropriations of the General Accounting Office is required for the performance of its auditing functions, the volume of which is related to the trend of Federal expenditures.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

The estimate for 1944 provides for moderate increases in employee safety appliance, signal and train control devices, locomotive inspections, and car service, the aggregate of which totals $114,950 in excess of the appropriations for 1943. These increases are necessary because of the increasing importance of the maintenance of railroad equipment, the safety and efficiency of rail operation, and the relief of car shortages and traffic congestion. These factors are of great importance to the war program. Offsetting decreases amounting to $138,142 are reflected in the regulatory work of the Commission.

NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD

The National Labor Relations Board was created as an independent agency by the National Labor Relations Act of July 5, 1935, and administers the provisions of that act.

The act affirms the right of employees to full freedom of self-organization and in the designation of representatives of their own choosing for the purpose of collective bargaining, and authorizes the Board to conduct secret ballots for the determination of employee representation. The act also makes unlawful certain unfair labor practices of employers which abridge or deny the rights of employees.

The Board takes jurisdiction only on complaints and petitions for relief, and its decisions are enforced through the courts. A central office in Washington and 24 regional offices carry out the duties imposed by the law. Since its creation, approximately 46,000 cases involving 12,000,000 workers have been closed by action of the Board. In the fiscal year 1942 the number of cases disposed of by the Board was 11,741, and it is estimated the load in 1943 will increase approximately 2 percent over 1942. The estimated case load for 1944 will be approximately the same as in 1943. The appropriation recommended for 1944 shows a decrease of $56,470 from actual appropriations made in 1943. The Board is able to assume the work load estimated for 1944, with a reduction of funds, as it is now possible to settle more cases in the informal stage than heretofore, since over a period of years the Board has obtained considerable experience and has now a large volume of precedent which is used in meeting current problems.

NATIONAL MEDIATION BOARD

The National Mediation Board, with the National Railroad Adjustment Board, functions as an agency to insure labor peace on the railroads, water-borne commerce operated by railroads and air lines, by mediating disputes between employers and employees, and interpreting labor agreements.

Since the enactment of the legislation to establish this agency, with but few exceptions, both the railroads and the air lines have been free from strikes and threatened strikes growing out of differences between employers and employees. An efficient and uninterrupted transportation system is essential to the effective prosecution of both war and peacetime activities of the Nation.

The National Mediation Board, in its mediatory and other functions, covers approximately 700 carriers and some 1,350,000 railway employees. When a controversy between a carrier and his employees is not settled through mediation, it may be submitted to arbitration by agreement of both parties. If, in the opinion of the Board, a threatened strike would interrupt interstate commerce to such a degree as to deprive any section of the country of essential transportation, the situation is reported to the President, who may create an emergency board to investigate and report on the dispute.

The personnel of the National Railroad Adjustment Board is divided into four divisions, each with jurisdiction over specified crafts of railway employees. The Board is composed of 36 members equally divided between management and employees, whose salaries are paid by carriers or organizations, respectively. Administrative personnel, including secretaries of the members and other incidental expense, is paid from a Federal appropriation.

The National Mediation Board in the fiscal year 1942 disposed of 418 cases, or more than in any other year of the Board's history. The Railroad Adjustment Board disposed of 2,126 cases in 1942, an increase of 18 percent over 1941. The load in 1943 will increase slightly but for 1944 will be approximately the same.

The appropriation recommended for 1944 shows an increase of $27,085 from actual appropriations made in 1943 because of the necessity for providing one additional mediator to insure prompt mediation of disputes and additional funds for expenses of referees.

NATIONAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR AERONAUTICS

This agency was created by statute to "supervise and direct the scientific study of the problems of flight, with a view to their practical solution" and also to "direct and conduct research and experiment in aeronautics." The membership of the Committee consists of men of prominence in the general field of science and in the special field of aerodynamics and related subjects. All agencies of the Government directly concerned with aeronautics are represented on the Committee. The Committee operates the Langley Memorial Aeronautical Laboratory at Langley Field, Va., and the Ames Aeronautical Laboratory at Moffett Field, Calif. A third laboratory for aircraft-engine research is now nearing completion at Cleveland, Ohio.

Prior to the present World War the work of the Committee was primarily concerned with fundamental research with respect to civil and military aircraft. Since that time its activities have been devoted largely to applied research in the field of military and naval aviation; the greatly increased work load requires operation on a three-shift basis requiring an increased allowance of $6,695,264 for salaries and expenses for the fiscal year 1944. An important factor in this increase is the fact that the laboratories at Moffett Field, Calif., and Cleveland, Ohio, will, for the first time, be operated on a full 12-month basis during 1944. However, since additional funds will be required during the current fiscal year, the indicated increase for 1944 over 1943 will probably be materially reduced.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES

The National Archives' principal function is preservation of inactive Federal records of permanent value and historical interest for the use of scholars and Government officials. In addition, this agency appraises records declared worthless by heads of agencies and transmits to Congress recommendations for the authorization of the disposal of such records; publishes the Federal Register containing interdepartmental orders of general effect and applicability; and administers the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library at Hyde Park, N. Y., which is the designated depository for the President's official papers. The financial requirements of the National Archives for 1944 will be approximately 10 percent less than the 1943 expenditures. This reduction reflects a discontinuance of activities not war-related in character. The only function showing an increase is the Division of the Federal Register, which is required by law to prepare a cumulative supplement to the Code of Federal Regulations. This supplement will be useful to administrators of the war agencies.

NATIONAL CAPITAL PARK AND PLANNING COMMISSION

The functions of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission are both operative and advisory in character. The agency maintains a comprehensive and coordinated plan for the National Capital and its environs, and consults with officials of the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia for this purpose. It also acquires lands by purchase or condemnation for the development of the National Capital's park, parkway, and playground system, for the development of the George Washington Memorial Boulevard on both sides of the Potomac River, and for the extension of the District park system into nearby Maryland and Virginia. No estimate is included in the 1944 Budget for this agency because the land-acquisition program has been deferred until the end of the war, and sufficient funds are available to enable the Commission to continue its planning and advisory work.

RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD

Currently and through 1944, it is anticipated that the number of retirements of railroad workers will decline because of the pressing need on the part of the railroads for workers of all types and ages. The number of new beneficiaries resulting from deaths will continue to rise. As of September 1942 the Board is paying more than $10,500,000 every month to over 158,000 aged or disabled workers, or the survivors of deceased workers.

Because of the tremendous expansion of railroad operations, activities in the field of unemployment insurance are at a relatively low ebb. Benefits in this field are running at one-third of 1942 levels and it is anticipated that in 1944 they will be even less. Seasonal shifts and lay-offs in the industry present a continuing need for this service, but at a much reduced level.

Employment service activities have expanded rapidly during the past year and will continue to expand during 1944.

The railroad retirement appropriated account represents the full amount of the estimated taxes collected for retirement benefits for railroad workers (less the amounts appropriated for administrative expenses), and the railroad unemployment insurance administration fund consists of 10 percent of the taxes collected for railroad unemployment insurance. Both reflect the substantial growth in tax income from greatly increased railroad pay rolls due to war activity. The remaining 90 percent of unemployment insurance taxes which are used for benefit payments go directly into the unemployment insurance trust fund and are not shown as appropriation estimates in the Budget.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

In its work toward preventing excessive use of credit to finance speculation in securities, as provided by the various acts in this field, the Commission continues at somewhat below the 1943 level. The stimulation of a more economical and efficient structure for public-utilities companies, as provided by the Public Utility Holding Company Act, continues at the same level as in 1943. While the Commission's appropriation was reduced $530,000 in 1943, a recent reorganization of operating divisions should contribute to increased effectiveness.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

The Smithsonian Institution, founded in 1846 "for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men," carries on fundamental research in the pure and natural sciences, issues publications, and operates the United States National Museum and the Freer Art Gallery. There has been a significant shift in the activities of this agency to fit it into the national war program. For example, the Smithsonian Institution has sponsored the Ethno-geographic Board, which has inventoried the special skills of American biologists, anthropologists, and geographers with special reference to travel and explorations in foreign countries. This Board functions as a clearinghouse for hundreds of technical questions referred to it by the Army and Navy. This shift in program, however, is not reflected in a change in the estimate of the Smithsonian Institution, because new activities have been undertaken only at the expense of other research, exploration, and publication projects which have been deferred. The estimate for 1944 is the same as the 1943 appropriation.

The National Gallery of Art is a quasi-independent branch of the Smithsonian Institution. Here are displayed free to the public such famous collections as those formerly belonging to Mr. Andrew W. Mellon, Mr. Samuel H. Kress, Mr. Joseph E. Widener, and others. The attendance at the National Gallery of Art during the first full year of operation was more than 2,000,000, a figure which exceeded all previous estimates and is greater than the attendance of any other art gallery in the world. No increase in appropriation is estimated for the National Gallery of Art for 1944, although the accessioning of the Widener collection will necessitate the opening of 16 additional galleries.

TARIFF COMMISSION

The Tariff Commission is primarily an independent, fact-finding, fact-reporting agency which has no regulatory functions. During the period since it was established it has become a reservoir of trade, production, commodity, and import information. In times of peace the service of the Commission is principally to the President and the Congress in connection with revisions of tariff or studies of industrial costs. Today, when the exigencies of war require prompt decisions as to the best means of securing, whether by importation or domestic production, an adequate supply of strategic, critical, and other essential materials, the chief function of the Commission is to supply needed information to the executive war agencies.

The estimate of $863,000 for the Tariff Commission is intended to provide for a skeleton force of trained specialists and commodity experts. Reimbursement from those agencies for which specific services are required will provide for other necessary personnel.

THE ALLEY DWELLING AUTHORITY

The Alley Dwelling Authority operates 122 dwelling units built in reclaimed slums of the District of Columbia. No increase is provided in the 1944 Budget for this purpose, but language authorizing expenditure for emergency repairs in excess of the appropriation when specifically authorized by the Bureau of the Budget is included this year for the first time. This provision will take care of contingencies which might otherwise necessitate the temporary closing of the properties pending passage of a supplemental appropriation. The other activities of The Alley Dwelling Authority, namely, war-housing construction and maintenance, and work as agent for the Federal Public Housing Authority, are both financed from other appropriations.

THE TAX COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

The name of the former Board of Tax Appeals was changed to The Tax Court of the United States by the Revenue Act of 1942. The same act abolished the United States Processing Tax Board of Review and transferred its functions to the Tax Court, effective January 1, 1943.

Under the estimate for 1944, which exceeds the 1943 appropriation by approximately 2 percent, the Tax Court will absorb the work of the former Processing Tax Board of Review.

UNITED STATES MARITIME COMMISSION

The 1944 estimate for the Maritime Commission increases the construction fund by $1,289,780,000, which, together with estimated receipts of $13,145,363, provides for an expenditure program of $1,302,925,363. Progress payments on ships being constructed under the heretofore authorized long-range program amount to $1,277,056,890. A limitation of $23,000,000 is fixed upon general administrative expenses which are incident almost entirely to ship construction.

All other major functions heretofore performed by the Maritime Commission are now being handled in the War Shipping Administration for which, except certain minor joint services, separate financial provision is made.

VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION

The Veterans' Administration renders such services as are prescribed by law to veterans of all wars and the Regular Military Establishment. These services consist principally of medical and hospital care, the payment of pensions, and the handling of Government life insurance.

Medical and hospital care and Government life insurance are administered under the appropriation for salaries and expenses. In the central administrative offices during 1944 there will be an increase in personnel of approximately 7 percent due entirely to the increased activities in connection with pensions and insurance arising from the expansion of the armed forces. In the field, the cost of operation during 1944 will be increased by approximately 6 percent. This increase is due to additional personnel for the increased patient load arising from the present war; to the staffing of new facilities; to the increased cost and quantity of commodities used; and to the increased cost of personal services. By the close of fiscal year 1944, the Veterans' Administration will have in operation throughout the continental United States 94 facilities with a total bed capacity of 82,625 beds, and it is anticipated that these facilities will render medical and hospital care to approximately 74,500 patients per day.

The increase in the estimate for payment of Army and Navy pensions is entirely for cases arising out of the present war. The amount represents a preliminary estimate.

The cost of service-connected claims under Government life insurance as reflected in the appropriations for military and naval insurance and national service life insurance is increased to cover losses from the present war. As in the case of pensions, the amounts are preliminary estimates.

The increased appropriations to the two large trust accounts, United States Government life insurance fund and national service life insurance trust fund, reflect increases incident to the present war. The appropriation to the United States Government life insurance fund consists of payments to the fund from premiums, amounts transferred from the military and naval insurance appropriation to cover service-connected claims, and interest earned on invested funds. The appropriation to the national service life insurance trust fund consists of premium payments, transfers from the appropriation for national service life insurance to cover service-connected claims, and interest earned on investments. In November 1942 there were about 600,000 policies in force under military and naval insurance and 2,550,000 policies under the national service life insurance.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

The Federal Security Agency was established by authority of the Reorganization Act of 1939, and brought together those agencies of the Government which had as their major purposes the promotion of social and economic security, educational opportunity, and the health of the citizens of the Nation. During the fiscal year 1943, United States employment offices, the Employment Service functions of the Social Security Board, the National Youth Administration, and the apprenticeship training and training within industry programs in the Office of the Federal Security Administrator were transferred to the War Manpower Commission.

The promotion of social and economic security is carried on by the Social Security Board through its federally operated system of old-age and survivors' insurance, its functions in connection with State operated unemployment insurance, its administration of public assistance grants to States, and its studies in the field of social security.

The promotion of educational opportunities is represented mainly by the various activities of the Office of Education and by the Federal financial support given to the American Printing House for the Blind, Columbia Institution for the Deaf, and Howard University.

In promoting the health of citizens of the Nation the Public Health Service activities may be roughly grouped into operation of hospitals, quarantine services, a variety of health and sanitation activities, research, and education. The direct work of the Public Health Service is supplemented by an extensive program for grants to States to assist in the development of the various types of State and local health services and by additional grants to States for assistance in the control of venereal diseases. Since the declaration of war the grants for control of venereal diseases have been substantially increased and an emergency appropriation provided for added assistance to States in meeting the health problems of war areas.

Regulatory activities within the Agency are related to health and comprise the work of the Food and Drug Administration and of control of biologics in the Public Health Service.

OFFICE OF THE ADMINISTRATOR

The appropriations recommended for this Office provide for the immediate Office of the Administrator, the Office of General Counsel, and the Personnel Supervision and Management and Chief Clerk Divisions which service all of the constituent agencies of the Federal Security Agency. The functions of the Personnel Division were substantially decentralized in 1943, and the 1944 recommendation continues to reflect only over-all personnel functions. There is no substantial change in the amounts recommended for 1944 for these functions.

The appropriations for traveling expenses and printing and binding in the Office of the Administrator provide for all of the constituent agencies and show amounts for 1944 somewhat below 1943.

AMERICAN PRINTING HOUSE FOR THE BLIND

Appropriations for the American Printing House for the Blind continue at the same level as in previous years. Notwithstanding this, its services have been substantially expanded in recent years in provision of books in Braille for schools for the blind, reproduction of books, of special phonograph records manufactured at the institution, Braille typewriters, and reproduction of magazines and other items for the blind. Government support of this institution is supplemented by sales to the Library of Congress, and by moneys from some additional sources.

COLUMBIA INSTITUTION FOR THE DEAF

This Institution provides grade school instruction in its Kendall School for 73 pupils, for which it is reimbursed by the District of Columbia, and college training in its Gallaudet College for 141 pupils selected from the various States on a free scholarship basis. Federal support of this nonprofit Institution continues at slightly below the 1943 level due largely to a nonrecurring item for new boilers provided in 1943.

FOOD AND DRUG ADMINISTRATION

This agency has responsibility for enforcement of the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, the Tea Importation Act, the Milk Importation Act, the Caustic Poison Act, the Filled Milk Act, and the Sea Food Inspectors Act. The work of the Administration, however, is dominantly the enforcement of the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, under which an extensive program is directed toward prevention of transmission in interstate commerce of food, drugs, and cosmetics which are filthy, adulterated, injurious to health, or misbranded. Within the appropriation provided, the Administration concerns itself primarily with matters affecting the public health. At the present time, considerable special work is carried on in providing for proper quality of foods and drugs for the armed forces and for lend-lease. The appropriation provided for 1944 is the same as for 1943.

FREEDMEN'S HOSPITAL

Freedmen's Hospital is an institution created by Act of Congress in 1865 to render medical and hospital care to the Negro. It consists of a general unit and a tubercular unit with a total capacity of 550 beds, currently operating at about 90 percent capacity. The hospital is fully approved by the American College of Surgeons and consists of both in- and out-patient departments. It derives funds for operation from Federal appropriation and direct payment by patients. It is estimated that in 1944 the Government's share of the cost of operation will be approximately 30 percent and that there will be no material increase in the number of patients cared for. There is an increase in the estimate of approximately 5 percent because of the increased cost of commodities and personal services.

HOWARD UNIVERSITY

Howard University, which was established in 1867 by an Act of Congress, is a school of higher education for the Negro. Federal aid is granted to Howard University as a recognized measure of public policy. There has been some increase in enrollment in recent years, but it is expected that in 1944 the increase in the colleges of engineering, medicine, and dentistry will be more than offset by decreases in other colleges. It is anticipated that there will be no material change in the amount of total funds necessary to operate the University in 1944, but the estimate of the Federal funds necessary is slightly less in 1944 due to increased income from other sources.

OFFICE OF EDUCATION

The Office of Education was created by an act of Congress in 1867, to: (1) Collect and publish statistics and facts to show the condition and progress of education in the States and Territories, (2) circulate information regarding the organization and management of schools and the methods of teaching to aid in the maintenance of efficient State school systems, and (3) promote education. In addition, this Office supervises vocational education and other training programs throughout the United States.

Annual grants-in-aid to the States, Territories, and outlying possessions for educational purposes are administered by this Office. Since 1890 the Federal Government has made appropriations of money to the States for the support of the land-grant colleges, which now number 69. The first of the relevant statutes was enacted in 1862, for the purpose of encouraging work in the fields of agriculture, mechanic arts, and home economics. In addition to these grants to colleges, the Office administers Federal funds and Federal grants to the States for the promotion and support of vocational education and vocational rehabilitation. These programs were begun during the first World War.

Since 1940 the Office has directed defense training programs designed and operated primarily to meet the specific local needs of industry and government. This program includes: (1) War production training in vocational courses below college grade, (2) engineering, science, and management war training of college grade, and (3) the training of rural and nonrural youth and adults in mechanical arts and agricultural production.

In the budget for 1944, approximately four-fifths of the $175,678,800 recommended is for the education and training of defense workers; it is estimated that 4,465,000 persons will be trained. An amount of $21,703,000 is allowed for the promotion and development of vocational education in the United States, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico; in 1944 approximately 2,800,000 persons will be enrolled in vocational schools operating under these funds. An estimate of $3,325,000 is for cooperative vocational rehabilitation in the United States, the District of Columbia, and Hawaii and Puerto Rico; in 1944 it is estimated that 50,000 physically disabled persons will be placed in employment through this program, although more than 100,000 persons will be in process of training during the year. Provision is made for $5,030,000 for further endowment to the land-grant colleges and for the permanent annual appropriation to these 69 schools. For salaries and general expenses of the Office of Education and library service and research $358,800 is included.

The total estimate for 1944 is $250,290 less than appropriated for 1943, although there are substantial increases in the defense training programs and grants-in-aid to the States for vocational education and vocational rehabilitation. These increases are offset by the reduction made in appropriations for short courses of less than college grade for out-of-school rural and nonrural persons and by the discontinuance of the student-loan program.

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE

The 16 appropriations, exclusive of trust accounts, that make up the total for the Public Health Service may be grouped under certain major types of activities as follows: Operation of hospitals, quarantine activities, health and sanitation activities (largely in cooperation with the States), research, regulatory work, education, and training.

OPERATION OF HOSPITALS

Marine hospitals, relief stations, and Coast Guard service.—The marine hospitals and relief stations of the Public Health Service are for the purpose of rendering medical and hospital care to certain types of beneficiaries prescribed by law. These consist principally of merchant seamen and members of the United States Coast Guard. The estimated funds necessary in 1944 show an increase of approximately 25 percent. This increase is due very largely to the great expansion in the Coast Guard, whose beneficiaries will require both in-patient and out-patient treatment as direct charges against this appropriation. This expansion more than offsets the Work Projects Administration and Civilian Conservation Corps beneficiaries formerly cared for on a reimbursable basis.

Narcotic Hospitals.—The Division of Mental Hygiene operates two hospitals primarily for narcotic addicts, one at Fort Worth, Tex., and one at Lexington, Ky., with a combined capacity of about 2,450 beds. While certain voluntary patients are received, most of them are Federal prisoners. The Division also conducts research into the nature and treatment of drug addiction, provides clinical psychiatric care, and operates vocational therapy projects for such patients. Since the outbreak of the present war there has been a decided decline in the number of drug addicts because of inability to secure narcotics, and it is expected that this decline will continue. However, the patient load at these two institutions is expected to increase materially due to provision for rendering care to the excess patients from Saint Elizabeths Hospital. It is not expected that there will be any material difference in the cost of operating these two institutions, but the estimate of appropriation for 1944 shows a decline of 13 percent due to reimbursements received from Saint Elizabeths Hospital for the care of its patients.

QUARANTINE ACTIVITIES

Quarantine activities include the Foreign Quarantine Service, with 22 major and 166 minor quarantine stations, and the Interstate Quarantine Service. The former is recommended for 1944 at a level slightly above the amount provided for 1943 including an amount to provide for the wartime activities of supervising rat-proofing construction in newly built vessels. While the number of vessels inspected has decreased somewhat under war conditions, the type and source of traffic requires maintenance of the stations at about the same level as in previous years. Interstate quarantine work maintained at about the same level as 1943 is a relatively small appropriation dealing with special sanitation problems such as drinking water on common carriers and shell-fish sanitation.

HEALTH AND SANITATION ACTIVITIES

Under the appropriation for preventing spread of epidemic diseases, work is currently being carried on with reference to the spread of bubonic plague among rodents in the West. For 1944 this appropriation will also include some work looking to the control of rat-borne typhus which has recently shown a considerable increase in certain areas.

Under the appropriation for expenses, Division of Venereal Diseases a portion of the activity consists of work by the staff of the Public Health Service in program planning, educational activity, research, and training. Treatment is given at Hot Springs, Ark. For the most part, however, the appropriation is allocated to the various States for case reporting, maintenance of laboratories, clinics, demonstration centers, and case-finding and follow-up activities. The appropriation for 1944 is for the same amount as 1943 except for certain transfers to other appropriations. The 1943 appropriation was increased $3,750,000 over the previous year.

Under the same general function of health and sanitation activities are included the allotment of $11,000,000 to States as provided by title VI of the Social Security Act, and the additional work done in cooperation with the States under the special wartime appropriation for health and sanitation activities in war areas. Under the funds granted to States under title VI of the Social Security Act, the total expenditures for the wide range of activities carried on by State and local health offices has been substantially augmented, and increases in State and local expenditures have been encouraged. The total being expended for public health purposes in the States from all sources is currently in excess of $118,000,000. The amount provided for grants to States under title VI remains the same as for 1943 which is the full amount authorized under the Social Security Act.

The amount recommended for emergency health and sanitation activities, which is increased approximately 12 percent in 1944, provides for an extensive malaria program in war areas. This program is carried on directly by the Public Health Service in cooperation with the States, and involves about $6,000,000. Other activities are an expanding program of industrial hygiene, a program for the control of aedes aegypti mosquitoes, and $2,370,000 for increased assistance to States in rendering emergency health and sanitation activities in war areas. This assistance is rendered principally by detailing to the States personnel employed by the Public Health Service.

RESEARCH

Research activities are carried on mainly at the National Institute of Health at Bethesda, Md., the National Cancer Institute, at the Rocky Mountain Laboratory at Hamilton, Mont., and in smaller laboratories in various locations. Most of the support of research activities is carried by the appropriations for the National Institute of Health, National Cancer Institute, disease and sanitation investigations, and expenses, Division of Venereal Diseases. Research projects have been extensively diverted to wartime problems, including such particular items as study of quinine substitutes, development and improvement of vaccines, research on industrial hygiene, and special studies requested by the military services. In connection with the research carried on at the Hamilton, Mont., laboratory a substantial program has developed for the production of certain vaccines for various diseases, particularly yellow fever, typhus, and rocky mountain spotted fever. Research appropriations for 1944 have been maintained close to the 1943 level except for an increase of about $120,000 to cover vaccine research.

REGULATORY WORK

Under regulatory activities the Public Health Service has the responsibility for controlling the manufacture and sale of viruses, serums, toxins, and similar products. This activity is carried on under the appropriation for the National Institute of Health at the same level as in 1943.

EDUCATION AND TRAINING

Health education is a function of the Public Health Service which is reflected in various appropriations throughout the service as well as in expenditures by States under grants based on Title VI of the Social Security Act. Similarly, training of specialists is included in a number of the activities such as control of venereal diseases, National Cancer Institute, and National Institute of Health. Funds for training are also included in State budgets. A special wartime appropriation provides for the training of nurses as a measure toward relieving the acute shortage in this field. The appropriation is recommended for 1944 at the same level as for 1943 and provides principally for allowances to hospitals for costs incurred in connection with increases in the number of nurses accepted for training. In addition, the program provides for tuition scholarship grants to nurses entering training where need is shown, for grants to hospitals for operation of short refresher courses, and for a limited amount of post-graduate training in critical nursing fields.

SAINT ELIZABETHS HOSPITAL

Saint Elizabeths Hospital is an institution entirely operated by the Federal Government to render medical and hospital care to mental patients. These patients are divided into two classes. The first of these is patients for which the hospital receives reimbursement. These patients, as prescribed by law, come principally from the District of Columbia, the Public Health Service, the Veterans' Administration, the Indian Service, and the Soldiers' Home. The second group consists of patients from the armed forces, Federal criminals, American citizens adjudged insane in Canada, residents of the Virgin Islands, foreign service officers and employees, all as prescribed by law and for which the institution does not receive reimbursement.

There has been a steady increase in the number of patients from all sources for the past several years and it is anticipated that in 1944 there will be a substantial increase due to the war. Because of this increase it is estimated that approximately 950 patients in excess of the bed capacity of Saint Elizabeths Hospital will have to be cared for in the narcotic hospitals of the Public Health Service. The estimate of funds necessary for 1944 shows an increase of approximately 38 percent because of the increased number of patients and the increased cost of commodities and personal services.

SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD

With the recent transfer of Employment Service to the War Manpower Commission, the Social Security Board performs three functions: Insurance, public assistance, and research in the field of social security.

The federally operated program of old-age and survivors' insurance is carried on by the Bureau of that name. Administrative expenses for carrying on the program are covered by the appropriation for salaries of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors' Insurance, and large portions of the appropriations for miscellaneous expenses of the Social Security Board, and traveling expenses, and printing and binding of the Office of the Administrator.

Although appropriated from the general fund of the Treasury, these administrative expenses are in fact paid out of special pay-roll taxes levied for purposes of old-age and survivors' insurance. The amounts realized from these pay-roll taxes go directly into the Federal old-age and survivors' insurance trust fund, as shown in the Treasury Department chapter of the Budget. From total proceeds, however, there is deducted the reimbursement to the general fund covering applicable administrative expenses of the Social Security Board and all other agencies, such as the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which incur expenses in connection with the program.

By 1944, wages will be reported for 46,500,000 individuals, which form the basis for their future benefits under the program. The recommended appropriation for 1944, while reflecting an increased work load for handling wage records resulting from employment conditions, also reflects continued decrease in the number of retirement claims because many workers who otherwise might retire with benefits are continuing in employment.

BUREAU OF EMPLOYMENT SECURITY

The Bureau of Employment Security is that part of the Social Security Board which is responsible for administering title III of the Social Security Act, "Grants to States for unemployment compensation administration," and for discharging the Board's responsibility under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act of the Internal Revenue Code. The Board's function is to assist the States in achieving proper and efficient administration of their unemployment compensation laws, and to make certifications to the Secretary of the Treasury for payments to the States of funds found by the Board to be necessary for proper and efficient administration.

The unemployment compensation program is operated through State systems that vary considerably in detail but meet minimum standards established by the Federal Government. The system is financed through pay-roll taxes. Taxes collected by States go into a trust fund and are used in paying benefits, during periods of involuntary unemployment, to workers who are covered under a particular State's law. In discharging its responsibilities, the Bureau exercises three major functions: (1) to review and evaluate provisions of State unemployment compensation laws and the performance of State employment security agencies, and to assist the States to remove or avoid any deviations from the requirements of the Federal laws and to attain the most effective and economical operation; (2) to determine the funds required by each of the State employment security agencies for proper and efficient administration of State unemployment compensation laws; and (3) to assemble data on a Nation-wide basis concerning the progress of the unemployment compensation program, to assist the States in adapting their systems to meet special needs, and to analyze program trends for the purpose of developing future plans.

Prior to September 17, 1942, the functions of the United States Employment Service, which was transferred to the War Manpower Commission by Executive order, were exercised by the Bureau of Employment Security. The employment service had been nationalized by the transfer of the State employment services to Federal operation beginning January 1, 1942. Since the defense program was undertaken, employment service costs have accounted for about one-half of the funds appropriated for use by the Bureau of Employment Security, including grants to the States. The recent separation and transfer, therefore, accounts for the drastic reduction in the Bureau's budget for 1944, an aggregate reduction from $83,934,410 to $39,750,000.

Further refinement of the Board's methods of appraising the States' programs, characterized by greater objectivity based upon cumulative experience, is being undertaken. The volume of State operations during 1944 will be affected by a declining claims load, partially offset by increased contributions activities in accord with the Nation's approach to full employment.

Benefit checks, representing compensable claims for weeks of unemployment, have declined substantially from 31.3 million in fiscal year 1942, and are expected to drop to 24.4 million in 1943 and to 18.8 million in 1944. The employers' reports of wages paid, on the other hand, show an increase from 134 million items in 1942, to 144 million in 1943 and an expected 145 million in 1944.

BUREAU OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

This Bureau, in cooperation with the States, administers the three programs of public assistance to individuals: Old-age assistance, aid to dependent children, and aid to the blind. The amount recommended for the Bureau of Public Assistance is about 7 percent below 1943. The work of the Bureau consists of making allotments to the various States on a fifty-fifty matching basis provided by title I of the Social Security Act, of reviewing and approving State plans for making grants to individuals, advising and assisting the States in the administration of the programs, and of studying and making recommendations from time to time in the field of social welfare. Old-age assistance grants to States for 1944, while $9,000,000 above 1943, are estimated to advance at a slower rate than in recent years due to the increased employment opportunities for older persons otherwise eligible for assistance. The estimate for aid to dependent children is $10,000,000 below 1943, reflecting larger employment of women otherwise eligible for benefits. Grants for aid to the blind continue at approximately the same level as in 1943.

The research activities of the Board are carried on by units within the various bureaus and by the central Bureau of Research and Statistics and the Office of the Actuary at a reduced level from the previous year.

Sea Food Inspections, Food and Drug Administration—

Under authority of "An Act to amend section 10A of the Federal Food and Drugs Act of June 30, 1906, as amended", approved August 27, 1935 (21 U. S. C. 372a), the Federal Security Administrator provides inspection of sea food products upon the application of packers. This service is supported in part by the appropriation "Salaries, Sea Food Inspectors", Food and Drug Administration, and partly by fees charged the packers which are used to employ additional inspectors and for administrative, equipment, and maintenance costs necessary to provide an adequate and efficient inspection service. These unearned fees are covered into the Treasury as a special trust fund and are appropriated and made available for refunds (21 U. S. C. 372a).

Such fees are to be in an amount necessary to provide, maintain, and equip an adequate service for such purpose. This service is supported by the appropriation for the enforcement of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. Fees are paid in advance and are either immediately deposited to "Miscellaneous receipts" or to a special trust account for future transfer, if earned, to "Miscellaneous receipts", or, if unearned, are appropriated and made available for refund. Revenues on deposit in the special trust account are for refund or transfer to "Miscellaneous receipts" (decision of Comptroller General, No. A44002).

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

OFFICE OF THE ADMINISTRATOR

Effort has been made with respect to the Office of the Administrator to develop a nucleus organization to handle more effectively the continuing functions of coordination and general supervision of the various constituent units within the Agency. The increase of $36,000 for the fiscal year 1944 does not represent an Agency-wide increase but rather it comprises in general consolidations within this office of certain common functions, such as engineering and accounting, heretofore covered by appropriations to various constituent units which have been correspondingly reduced.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS ADMINISTRATION

The appropriation for general administrative expenses provides for a nucleus organization to handle the continuing functions incident to repair, maintenance, construction work, space control, public property control, and other similar functions.

This Administration reviews and records leases covering approximately 100,000,000 square feet of space in 17,000 buildings outside the District of Columbia, exclusive of leased quarters for the Post Office Department. During the fiscal year 1943 the function of space control was strengthened, which will centralize in this Administration the procurement of space at a saving in cost to the Government.

During the fiscal year 1943 the diversion of labor and materials to the production of war goods has necessitated deferring $500,000 worth of work contemplated under the appropriation for the repair, preservation, and equipment of 3,500 public buildings outside the District of Columbia. This amount will be returned to the Treasury as savings for 1943. The continued policy for 1944 of full utilization of resources in connection with the war makes it necessary to defer an additional $900,000 worth of work, which is reflected as a reduction in this item for 1944. It should be noted, however, that these reductions do not represent a decrease in requirements but rather a delay in meeting those requirements until after the war.

During the fiscal year 1944 it is estimated that more than 300 buildings involving 45,000,000 square feet of floor space will be maintained and operated under the appropriation for salaries and expenses in the District of Columbia and adjacent area. The foregoing includes 11,000,000 square feet of space added during the fiscal year 1943 which necessitated a supplemental appropriation of $4,810,000.

The appropriation for salaries and expenses outside the District of Columbia will provide for the operation and maintenance of 169 buildings comprising approximately 15,000,000 square feet of space. This appropriation was increased $2,778,500 during the fiscal year 1943 necessitated by leasing 2,500,000 square feet of space occupied by Government agencies moved from Washington under the decentralization program.

PUBLIC ROADS ADMINISTRATION

The present activities of the Public Roads Administration are devoted exclusively to highways necessary to effective prosecution of the war. The Defense Highway Act of 1941 authorizes appropriations to meet various highway needs incident to the war and in addition authorizes expenditures of funds appropriated under authorizations in the Federal Highway Act to take care of critical deficiencies in lines of the strategic network of highways and bridges.

STRATEGIC HIGHWAY NETWORK

At the present time projects are under way involving 1,368 miles of roads and 375 bridges directly related to transportation on highways in furtherance of the war. To cover the Federal share of the cost of highways and structures of this character during the fiscal year 1944, funds will be required under authorizations in the Defense Highway Act as well as in the Federal Highway Act. The estimate of requirements under the latter act will be found under the General Public Works Program, pages 699-702.

ACCESS ROADS

The roads constructed under this appropriation provide access to military and naval reservations, to defense industries and defense industry sites, and to sources of raw materials. Projects involving 4,700 miles of roads have been certified and authorized for construction by the States. The greater portion of this mileage is now under contract. Many new projects are being certified to meet additional requirements.

SURVEYS AND PLANS

In the interests of expediting and adequately planning highways covered by the Defense Highway Act of 1941, provision is made for advance surveys and plans to be achieved in cooperation with the States. This activity is getting under way and projects are in operation in several States at the present time.

INTER-AMERICAN HIGHWAY

This project covers the construction of about 800 miles of hard-surfaced road between the southern border of Mexico and Panama. This mileage is approximately half the total length of the highway and fills the gaps between paved roads within the various Central American republics. At the present time 130 miles of roads and several expensive bridges and culverts are under contract. Rapid progress is being made in construction work and in making surveys preliminary to additional contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS ADMINISTRATION

In view of delays in completing 21 active non-Federal construction projects with an estimated value of work not in place amounting to about $32,000,000, it is necessary to retain a small organization to handle this work.

WORK PROJECTS ADMINISTRATION

By direction of the President the Work Projects Administration will be liquidated during the fiscal year 1943, and it is not anticipated that any additional appropriations will be necessary for 1944.

Expenditures for the constituent units, except appropriations for war housing and for annual contributions to housing agencies, are authorized from their own funds or from funds already available.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

The National Housing Agency was created by Executive order on February 24, 1942. This new Agency has complete authority for the development and execution of an integrated national housing policy and program, and has responsibility for all of the civilian housing activities formerly performed by 16 agencies of the Government, except for the nonurban housing program of the Farm Security Administration.

The new Agency operates through three large constituent units: The Federal Public Housing Authority, which has responsibility for the construction and management of all housing built with public funds; the Federal Housing Administration, which was transferred intact from the Federal Loan Agency, with statutory powers relative to the insurance of home-building mortgages; and the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration, also transferred intact from the Federal Loan Agency, with statutory responsibility for the Federal Home Loan Bank System, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, and the United States Housing Corporation, which is now in process of liquidation.

OFFICE OF THE ADMINISTRATOR

The Office of the Administrator has two basic responsibilities:

(a) A continuing responsibility for the formulation of a truly national housing policy and program, and for the supervision and coordination of the efforts of the three constituent units to make this policy and program effective; and

(b) Wartime responsibility for the programming of war housing in war production communities, allocating responsibility for actual construction to one of the constituents, and for seeing that more effective use is made of existing under-roof structures.

For the former responsibility of general administration, $529,953 is estimated for 1944, of which $109,953 would be transferred from funds already appropriated for war housing, and $420,000 would be allocated from funds available to the constituent units for administrative expenses. For the latter responsibility—war housing programming—homes use—funds would be allocated from appropriations available for war housing.

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK ADMINISTRATION

The Federal Home Loan Bank Administration becomes, as a result of the Executive order, a unified institution responsible for the activities of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, and also for the liquidation of the United States Housing Corporation, which is a remnant of World War I Government housing activity. The three principal institutions are closely interrelated. The Home Owners' Loan Corporation owns all of the stock of the insurance corporation and considerable blocks of stock in State and federally chartered savings and loan associations which are members of the bank system. The insurance corporation has a small staff; and much of its over-all supervision, review of new applications for insurance, and examination work is done by the bank system for the insurance corporation on a reimbursable basis. A single Commissioner now gives unified direction to the financial management and operation of the three institutions, which have as their common objective the promotion of financial stability of home ownership.

In prior years it has been the procedure to submit separately the estimates for the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, including the requirements of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. For the fiscal year 1944 these agencies are covered in a total Budget estimate under the title "Federal Home Loan Bank Administration," which is in turn subdivided as follows:

Federal Home Loan Bank System.....	$1, 700, 490
Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.....	531, 760
Home Owners' Loan Corporation.....	10, 090, 000
Total, Federal Home Loan Bank Administration.....
	12, 322, 250

During the period in which the headquarters of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation was located in its own building in Washington, D. C., and a portion of the space was occupied also by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and the staffs administering the bank system and the insurance corporation, there was an unavoidable intermingling of duties and responsibilities by the personnel of these agencies. The 1944 estimates contemplate that appropriate personnel and other adjustments will be made, and the increases on account of the bank system and the insurance corporation are principally for the purpose of reimbursing Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

The estimate for the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration includes the cost of reclassifying employees from Executive order to classification grades. While no considerable increase is estimated in the work loads incident to the administering of the bank system and the insurance corporation, provision is made for the strengthening of the examining and supervisory staffs in order to maintain a current and more detailed schedule of examinations, and the exercise of a stronger supervision in effecting corrective measures.

A decrease in the work load of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation is anticipated through its continued program of liquidation. It is estimated there will be a reduction of 13 percent in the number of active loan accounts and a reduction of 23 percent in the number of properties under its jurisdiction. The reduction in administrative expenses of 17 percent below the revised estimates for fiscal year 1943 is in line with the estimated reduction in work load.

It is planned to liquidate the properties of the United States Housing Corporation in the fiscal year 1943, and therefore no estimate is included for administrative expenses in fiscal year 1944.

FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION

No new business is contemplated under title I of the National Housing Act (renovation and modernization loans and insurance) for the fiscal year 1944, since the insurance of loans under this title expires by operation of law on June 30, 1943. Activities under this title subsequent to that date will be limited to the payment of claims and collections on defaulted notes.

Estimates for title II contemplate the servicing of existing insurance, contemplate no processing of applications for insurance of new construction with the exception of approximately 4,500 units of large-scale rental properties under section 207, and contemplate handling 75,000 applications for insurance of existing construction.

It is estimated that there will be a need for the construction by private enterprise of 63,000 housing units in designated war areas in the fiscal year 1944 to meet critical shortages. This will require the processing of 90,000 applications under title VI (insurance of mortgages on war housing), if that title is extended beyond its present expiration date of June 30, 1943. In the event title VI is not extended, it is expected that this construction would be also insured under title II.

The reduction in administrative expenses is in line with the contemplated reduction in volume of applications for insurance of new construction, and the reduced volume of business contemplated under title I.

In view of the reduced volume of new business contemplated in fiscal year 1943 under title I, and its complete discontinuance in fiscal year 1944, it is estimated that payment of losses will decrease to $5,000,000. Income accruing to the title I insurance fund is estimated to be sufficient to finance $2,000,000 of these losses, and the balance of $3,000,000 would be provided by allocation from Reconstruction Finance Corporation funds.

FEDERAL PUBLIC HOUSING AUTHORITY

The Federal Public Housing Authority is engaged in three principal programs, namely: (1) The construction of war housing; (2) the maintenance of war housing; and (3) continuing the program authorized in the United States Housing Act of 1937.

It is contemplated that the function of constructing war housing will carry over for approximately 4 months into the fiscal year 1944, and that the Federal Public Housing Authority will be engaged throughout the year in the major function of maintaining completed and occupied war housing projects. Administrative expenses incident to construction will be financed by allocations from funds appropriated for war housing, including temporary shelter. War housing maintenance administrative expenses, including temporary shelter, will be met by assessments against income from rentals. Administrative expenses for the maintenance of the projects transferred from the Public Works Administration and of the projects transferred from the Farm Security Administration will be financed by assessments against income from these projects. Administrative expenses for the Defense Homes Corporation will be reimbursed from corporation earnings.

Provision is made in the 1944 Budget for the use of not to exceed $3,500,000 of the funds of the Federal Public Housing Authority derived from operations under the low-rent and slum-clearance housing program authorized by the United States Housing Act of 1937 for administrative expenses of this program. This is a reduction of $777,132 below the 1943 appropriation. This reduction results from the cessation of construction activities under this program, offset in part by an increase occasioned by the maintenance of a greater number of completed projects.

An appropriation of $6,000,000, together with the unexpended balance of 1943 funds estimated at $5,600,000, will be required for the payment of annual contributions to public housing agencies for 162 statutory projects. This represents an increase of $873,000 over the revised estimated expenditures for fiscal year 1943 for 156 statutory projects. With respect to projects converted to war housing, and which are serving civilian workers of navy yards, arsenals, or defense industries, it is not anticipated that any annual contributions will be needed during the war housing period. No estimate is included for annual contributions on such projects.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

GENERAL

The Department of Agriculture is charged with the responsibility of carrying on agricultural activities and programs concerned with food and fiber production, processing, and distribution in the United States and its possessions, and the relationship of such activities and programs to those of other countries. It is also the medium through which the Nation has organized its agricultural resources for the successful conduct of the war.

It performs functions relating to agricultural adjustment, conservation, marketing, credit, regulatory work, research, and education. It works to eradicate and control insects and diseases affecting plants and animals. It administers regulatory laws enacted to protect food and fiber producers, processors, and consumers. It promotes the proper use of soil and forest resources and administers a program for rural rehabilitation and the Food-for-Freedom campaign.

In order to increase to the fullest possible extent the contribution of the Department to the war effort, a realignment of functions was effected in February 1942, whereby the activities and programs of 19 line agencies that previously reported directly to the Secretary were grouped under the direction of 8 administrators who were made members of the Agricultural War Board. This centralization of responsibility will enable the Department to concentrate its efforts upon farm production and other vital wartime programs.

Another material change in the 1944 estimate consists of providing funds for the Offices of the Secretary, Solicitor, and Information, and for the library and Bureau of Agricultural Economics principally through direct appropriations, thus avoiding substantial transfers from other appropriations.

BUDGET ESTIMATES FOR 1944

As compared with the 1943 appropriations, the Department of Agriculture budget estimates for 1944, exclusive of trust accounts and reappropriations, show an apparent increase of approximately 21 percent, but removing from consideration (a) the appropriation for parity payments to carry out the contract authorization contained in the 1943 Appropriation Act, and (b) the emergency rubber project (a special war activity), the amount of funds directly provided for in the 1944 estimates is nearly 8 percent less than the amount available for the fiscal year 1943. The total of reappropriated balances has been reduced about 59 percent for 1944 under 1943. Generally, the availability of funds for each of the functions of the Department for 1944 is less than for 1943, with the exception of grants to States and Territories, which show an increase.

The reorganization of the Department to be effected under Executive Order 9280, dated December 5, 1942, is not reflected in the 1944 Budget. For the purpose of discussion, however, the 1944 estimates are considered under the following 11 classifications:

- A. Departmental administration and service.
- B. Soil and forest cooperation.
- C. Agricultural research.
- D. Regulatory activities.
- E. Plant and animal insect and disease control.
- F. Grants to States and Territories.
- G. Protection and management of Federal lands.
- H. Agricultural conservation and adjustment payments.

- I. Agricultural credit.
- J. Marketing and diversion.
- K. Special war projects.

A. DEPARTMENTAL ADMINISTRATION AND SERVICE

Included under this functional heading are the Offices of the Secretary, Solicitor, Information, and Foreign Agricultural Relations, and the Department library. Except for a working capital fund provided for under the Office of the Secretary, the amount of funds on an availability basis for 1944 has been decreased more than 5 percent from 1943. The apparent increase in direct appropriations is considerably more than offset by the reduction in appropriations from which funds were formerly transferred.

B. SOIL AND FOREST COOPERATION

The appropriation items covered under this heading consist of the Soil Conservation Service activities, private forestry cooperation, and cooperative farm forestry. The practical application of improved practices of farm and wood-lot management so as to prevent soil erosion, increase soil fertility, provide for better land use, and increase farm production constitute the chief objectives of this extension work. The work of the Soil Conservation Service will include technical, material, and equipment assistance to a possible 23 percent more soil-conservation districts than were organized and in operation in the fiscal year 1943. Appropriation estimates for 1944 for these activities have been decreased approximately 1 percent as compared with 1943.

C. AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH

Agricultural research work involves 9 appropriation and 25 subappropriation items. A decrease of approximately 2 percent in the amount of funds to be made available is contemplated. Much of the research work is now directed toward the solution of problems vital to the war effort or vital to civilian and industrial welfare during wartime. A direct appropriation is proposed for the 4 great regional laboratories, previously provided for by transfers from the appropriation "Conservation and use of agricultural land resources."

D. REGULATORY ACTIVITIES

Under this classification are included 19 subappropriation items of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, and the Agricultural Marketing Administration. More than 50 regulatory laws enacted for the protection of producers, consumers, and dealers of food and fiber products are administered. Some of the activities are wholly or partially self-supporting. An increase of nearly 5 percent is recommended for meat inspection, the principal activity both from the standpoint of importance and cost. This increase is caused by greater demands for inspection service resulting largely from the new authority of the Bureau of Animal Industry to inspect meat packing establishments engaged in intrastate commerce. Funds for practically all other regulatory activities have been curtailed by about 5 percent.

E. PLANT AND ANIMAL INSECT AND DISEASE CONTROL

The control and treatment of diseases and parasites of domestic animals under the Bureau of Animal Industry, and the eradication and control of insects which are injurious to agricultural and forest crops and products under the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine and the Forest Service, constitute the activities under this classification. To offset reappropriations made for this control work for 1943, direct appropriations for 1944 show an increase, but the total amount recommended for 1944 is approximately 1.3 percent less than the amount available for 1943.

F. GRANTS TO STATES AND TERRITORIES

Grants to States and Territories are authorized by law for the purpose of financing cooperative agricultural research and extension activities. The 1944 appropriation estimates indicate an increase of about one-half of 1 percent over 1943, the increase being confined to grants to Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico.

G. PROTECTION AND MANAGEMENT OF FEDERAL LANDS

The Federal lands administered under this classification include 160 national forests, containing over 176,000,000 acres, and 147 land utilization projects, involving nearly 10,000,000 acres of submarginal land. Administrative expenses are estimated to be approximately the same in 1944 as in 1943. Some decreases in normal peacetime activities have been offset by the assumption of increased duties as a result of wartime requirements, such as increased timber sales. No further acquisition of land by purchase is contemplated for the duration of the war.

H. AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION AND ADJUSTMENT PAYMENTS

The 1944 appropriation estimate for parity payments indicates an increase of $193,623,000, since there was no appropriation for 1943. The estimate for 1944 is to provide for payments on 1942 crops, while the 1941 crop payments were provided for by a 1942 appropriation of $212,000,000.

An increase of nearly 35 percent for increased payments to sugar producers under the Sugar Act of 1937 is required as a result of Public Law 386, enacted on December 26, 1941. In the past, excise taxes on sugar have exceeded expenditures, but for 1944 it is estimated that expenditures will exceed revenues by about $900,000.

A decrease of $50,000,000 for "Conservation and use of agricultural land resources," from which fund acreage adjustment payments and payments for carrying out soil-building practices are made to farmers, will not result in an appreciable reduction in the rates of farmers' payments due to less participation in the program during the crop year 1942 than was originally estimated.

I. AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Five agencies are included within this classification which are engaged in the extension of agricultural credit to farmers and their organizations, in addition to the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, which provides farmers with insurance on cotton and wheat. Through the Farm Credit Administration and the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation short, intermediate, and long-term credit is provided, this being augmented by the lending activities of the Farm Security Administration in the case of those farmers in the lower-income groups who cannot obtain credit from other lending agencies. As a result of the war the Commodity Credit Corporation's loan and purchase programs have been vastly expanded to stimulate production, stabilize prices and provide for the importation of essential agricultural commodities. In the case of the Rural Electrification Administration, new construction is restricted to that having a direct relationship to war production.

Approximately 70 percent of the activities of these six agencies is financed from Government corporation funds, and the remainder from appropriated funds. The amount of funds recommended under these two categories for the fiscal year 1944 is approximately the same as in 1943.

J. MARKETING AND DIVERSION

Market news service, included under this classification, provides daily reporting of market information from terminal markets, shipping points, and producing sections to aid farmers in marketing their products to the best advantage. A reduction of 5 percent in the availability of funds for 1944 is contemplated. Other activities provide for encouraging the disposal, exportation, and domestic consumption of agricultural commodities, and the reestablishment of farmers' purchasing power. These objectives are accomplished through the diversion of agricultural products to new uses and to relief programs, including the school milk and school lunch programs, by means of export and domestic subsidies. Funds are provided by a permanent appropriation based upon 30 percent of customs receipts, and the reappropriation of prior year balances, supplemented in 1940, 1941, and 1942 by direct appropriations. Continuance of the activity is proposed during 1944 to the extent of 30 percent of customs receipts, plus the reappropriation of 1943 balances, which, compared with obligations for 1943, represents a decrease of approximately one-fifth.

K. SPECIAL WAR PROJECTS

To make available a source of crude rubber for emergency and war uses, the Department of Agriculture has undertaken, as a war project, an extensive program of cultivation and production of guayule. Funds proposed for 1944 for this project are approximately double the amount available in 1943. The program for 1943 called for planting 88,000 acres of guayule, and for 1944 it is estimated that an additional 176,000 acres will be planted.

Cooperative Agricultural Extension Work—

For the purpose of paying the expenses of cooperative agricultural extension work and the necessary printing and distributing of information in connection with same, the Act of May 8, 1914 (7 U. S. C. 341-348), permanently appropriated $480,000 for each year, $10,000 of which is paid annually to each State which has by action of its legislature assented to the provisions of the Act. It also appropriated an additional sum of $600,000 for the fiscal year following that in which the foregoing appropriation first became available, and for each year thereafter for seven a sum exceeding by $500,000 the sum appropriated for each preceding year, and for each year thereafter there is permanently appropriated the sum of $4,100,000 in addition to the sum of $480,000. The additional sums are allotted annually to each State by the Secretary and paid in the proportion which the rural population of each State bears to the rural population of all the States as determined by the next preceding Federal census, but no payment out of the additional appropriations can be made in any year to any State until an equal sum has been appropriated for that year by the legislature of such State, or provided by State, county, college, local authority, or individual contributions from within the State, for the maintenance of cooperative agricultural extension work. On May 16, 1928 (7 U. S. C. 386-386b), this appropriation was amended to include a permanent allotment to the Territory of Hawaii of $10,000 plus an additional sum of $12,935.43, subject to the same terms and conditions as the original act. The permanent annual appropriation was thereby increased to $4,602,935.43. Under the 1930 census the amount of money available to Hawaii increased by $3,160, thereby automatically raising the total amount available under the original Smith-Lever Act by this amount. Under the 1940 census the amount of money available to Hawaii decreased by $4,701, thereby automatically decreasing the total amount available under the original Smith-Lever Act by this amount. The Act of March 4, 1931 (7 U. S. C. 386d-386f) provides that the Smith-Lever Act and Acts supplementary thereto be increased without diminishing the amount now received by any State or other Territory, to carry out the provisions of this Act in the Territory of Puerto Rico and specifies that the appropriation for 1933 and subsequent years shall be $50,000, this amount to be increased by $10,000 annually, or such part thereof as may be necessary, until the total to which Puerto Rico is entitled under the provisions of this Act is reached. The maximum for Puerto Rico under the 1930 census ($95,069) was reached during the fiscal year 1938. Under the 1940 census the amount of money available to Puerto Rico increased by $8,246, thereby automatically increasing the total amount available under the original Smith-Lever Act by this amount. The changes occasioned by the 1940 census result in bringing the total permanent annual appropriation to $4,704,710 (7 U. S. C. 341-348).

Estimate 1944, $4,704,710      Appropriated 1943, $4,704,710

11 Grants, subsidies, and contributions: Obligations—1944, $4,704,710; 1943, $4,704,710; 1942, $4,704,710.
